Latin sermon, fragment

f. 1r-v // ser **at, sed ministros innocentes expectat. Cum autem illi in *****tes perseverarent et se corde lapideo esse non intellegebant, d***** digno ***** primo nullam lapidem *****. At illi hoc audientes unus post unum discesserunt; et remansit Ihesus solus et mulier in medio stans. Intellegamus ista, fratres, et humiliter veneremur ... Eꝫcclesia ergo gentium a superbis ad Christum damnanda ducitur, [f. 1v:] sed per gratuitam eius misericordiam de crimine liberatur. Videte, fratres, Domini respondentis oraculo superbos comprimi et humiles adiuvari; sic tamen misericordiam servat, ut nec eꝫquitatem amittat, nam cum dicit: Qui sine peccato est vestrum primo in illam lapidem mittat, non adulteram negat esse mulierem, sed superborum refutat vanitatem ... informat precepto, terret supplicio, invitat premio. Diligamus clementiam liberantis, audiamus precepta iubentis //

Fragment of a Latin sermon about God's mercy and His aversion to pride, demonstrated from the example of the woman caught in adultery (Jn. 8:1-11).

Parchment, 1 leaf, trimmed, 270 x 165 mm. Both pages are stained; on f. 1r the legibility is impaired by the remnants of glue.

Hard-point ruling for one column of 25 lines above top line, 240 x c. 128 mm.

Copied in Carolingian handwriting using ae and e.

No decoration.
