Gregory the Great, Moralia in Iob, II.49.117-49.126; M. Adriaen, ed., CCSL 143 (1979), 108. Approximately the top half of the folio has been cut off, and the inner margin has been trimmed with loss of text.

f. 1rb  //oculos mentis aperimus ... uitt sunt; quia//

Moralia, II.51.10-52.6; Adriaen, 109. Approximately the top half of the folio has been cut off with loss of text.

f. 1va  [tan]//to deterius delinquitur ... quasi in tyrannidem//

Moralia, II.52.27-52.37; Adriaen, 110. Approximately the top half of the folio has been cut off with loss of text.

f. 1vb  //Et notandum quod ... ut pulsatus uic//[iis]

Moralia, II.52.56-53.6; Adriaen, 110-11. Approximately the top half of the folio has been cut off, and the inner margin has been trimmed with loss of text.

Parchment. Part of 1 folio. "C ii", perhaps referring to book 2, is in the center of the lower margin of both the recto and the verso. 215 x 150 mm (written space originally ca. 250 x ca. 190 mm). 2 columns. 14 lines remaining (of original ca. 40). Ruled in lead. Double outer and single inner vertical bounding lines, with additional ruling between columns.

Written in late Caroline minuscule. 1-line initials are in brown uncials, not set apart from the text, with occasional use of an enlarged minuscule e, n or rustic capital N. Punctuation consists of the punctus, punctus elevatus, punctus versus and the punctus flexus. Double quotation marks are in the margin. Hyphenation is in the same ink as the text.

The fragment was used as the binding of a volume measuring ca. 130 x 80 mm. The shelf mark "F" was written in ink on the spine of the volume. The number "28" is written in ink in the margin of the recto.
